Bells

For those who walk up the church path on a Sunday morning, you may be aware that instead of our lovely eight bells ringing out, there are usually only five. The reason for this is that due to a number of circumstances (moving away, illness) the number of ringers has fallen over the years and we are looking for anyone who might be interested to learn to ring and join the team. You may even have learnt to ring many years ago in which case you will easily be able to pick it all up again. We ring for 30 minutes each Sunday before the 10am service - hardly a huge commitment - and although there are opportunities to do more, that is the prime reason why we ring each week.

Please call Sally on 01483 503029 if you would like more details.
